Why Ireland?

Situated in north-western part of Europe, Ireland is the second-largest island of the British Isles, and the third-largest in Europe. Owing to its high quality education system, Ireland is a popular study abroad destination for students from around the world. The government of Ireland is committed to supporting education and offers a host of scholarships and funding to attract international students.

World Class Education:

Ireland has a worldwide reputation for having an excellent education system. There are 9 prestigious universities and about 15 technology institutes in Ireland. There are also many public universities in Ireland for students looking for affordable tuition costs. Trinity College Dublin is Ireland's most prestigious university, ranked #1 in Ireland and 101st in the world (QS world rankings). Approximately, 35,000 international students study in Ireland every year.

2.

Low tuition fee and living expenses:

Tuition fee for international students in Ireland ranges from 9,950 - 35,000 EUR per year of study. As an international student in Ireland you can spend about 583-1000 EUR per month on accommodation, food, clothing, entertainment, transport, and incidental costs.

3.

Work while you study:

The Ireland student visa allows you to work for up to 20 hours per week during the university semester, and up to 40 hours per week during semester break. You can work in any sector including retail, hospitality, administration. Many universities will also offer a careers service for students that can assist you in finding work while you are studying, as well as after graduation.

Friendly and warm society

Ireland has a rich and beautiful culture comprising music, folklore, art and literature. The Irish are friendly and welcoming and the country is one of the safest to study and work in. English is the most spoken language making it easy for Indian students to adapt and settle down in Ireland.

5.

Pathway to Permanent Residency (PR):

Many Indian students choose to apply for permanent residency after they graduate. To do so, you must apply for a work permit from the Irish Immigration Authorities. After staying in Ireland for 5 years on a general work permit, you can apply for a PR. For students who are able to obtain the critical skills employment permit can apply for a PR after 2 years.

If you're applying for a postgraduate course in Ireland, you will need to apply for a 'D study visa'.

To be eligible to apply for the visa, you must be enrolled in a full-time course on the the Interim List of Eligible Programmes \(ILEP\).

You will need to provide the following with your visa application. (Please remember, original documents are required and must be in English or accompanied by a notarised translation):

- Letter of acceptance from a recognised school or college or university in Ireland
- Proof of your ability to pursue the course through the English language (through a standardized test like the IELTS)
- Proof that the fees for the course have been paid in full.
- Proof that you have enough funds (€7,000) for the initial part of your stay.
- Proof that you or a sponsor have access to at least €7,000 for each subsequent year of your studies, in addition to the course fees for each of those years.
- Proof of private medical insurance
- An explanation of any gaps in your educational history
- Confirmation that you intend to return to your country of permanent residence when you leave Ireland.

After post-graduation - what next? Pathways to permanent residency

Ireland provides a post study work visa for 2 years for international students who have completed their masters / post-graduation from Ireland. If you want to apply for Permanent Residency, you need to stay a total of 5 years in Ireland on a general work permit to become eligible to apply. In case you hold a Critical Skills Employment Permit, then you require only 2 years of stay in Ireland to be eligible for Permanent Residency. Critical Skills Employment Permit is designed to attract highly skilled people into the labour market with the aim of encouraging them to take up permanent residence in Ireland. The completion of 5 years or 2 years is calculated from the time of registration for the residence permit at GNIB 9 (Garda National Immigration Bureau). After living in Ireland for a period of 5 years post permanent residency, one becomes eligible to apply for citizenship of Ireland.
